PRINCESS FLYING OVER SEA

ASSURES MAYOR
BRITISH SCHOOL
PLOT' IS PROVED

Gorman Tells Result of Book Inquiry.

BY JOHN WOOD.

Former Congressman John J. Gorman's report to Mayor Thompson on pro-British propaganda in text books in the Chicago public schools was rejected last night.

The mayor, commissioning Mr. Gorman as his special investigator in school affairs. Since that time Mr. Gorman has made a study of school books in an attempt to prove the claims made by Mayor Thompson both before and after the election that Chicago schools are permeated with pro-British teachings and Sept. William McAndrew has been an active agent in spreading George propaganda.

McAndrew Suspension. Mr. Gorman's report comes on the heels of Sept. McAndrew's suspension on Monday. The mayor's attack on Mr. McAndrew was regarded as an important issue in his campaign and a deciding factor in the McAndrew election. The mayor pictured the independent as a spreader of British propaganda, who, by selection of tainted textbooks, had succeeded in bringing shame upon the head of George Washington and other American patriots. Mr. McAndrew was said to be an instrument in a plot to make the United States again a part of the British empire.

Five months Mr. Gorman has gone over textbooks used in Chicago and the public utterances of the historians who wrote them, the publishers who sold them, and the educators who used them. He has scrutinized ad-claims made by English statesmen.

He viewed with alarm the pamphlets issued by the English Speaking Union, the Rhodes Scholarship trustees and the Carnegie foundation.

Gorman Discloses 'Plot.' The result: Mr. Gorman tells Mayor Thompson, is the uncovering of a plot to feed the American eagle to the British lion. And in the plot, he says, Chicago school histories have played their part.

"In my examination of the historical text books used in the public schools of Chicago," Mr. Gorman's report begins, "I found only one which can be considered very good and that is Fiske's 'History of America.' Some of the school histories are faulty on account of their omissions principally, but most of the texts not only omit but distort and minimize many of the real characters, events and incidents which had sacred and eminent in American history, and they all fall in close conformity to a topical scheme designed for promotion of the American union."

The recent sinister alterations in some of American school histories, in which our annals are perverted, our heroic fathers defamed and their great achievements grossly dismissed in the children, obviously could not have occurred by mere coinci-

Motive Clearly Defined. "There is in each of these histories clearly defined motive, sometimes crudely stated designs, which reflect the British school histories.

At the front of the seeds planted by the Rhodes scholarship, the Carnegie foundation, and the English Speaking Union.

Prince Minister Baldwin is then shown as saying that American school histories are being "corrected," much to the satisfaction. A statement once made by Andrew Carnegie that present day Americans and Britons now share the war-waged by their forefathers is cited as an example.

The result, Mr. Gorman says, is a proslavery of countless educators and students, all in the sweet name of British History Schools. "Immediately," says Mr. Gorman, "most potent influences caused William McAndrew, then an assistant superintendent in that city (New York) to be appointed the head of the text book division of the New York school board. Promptly under the McAndrew administration, additional British histories flooded the schools."

Following a second investigation, which resulted in the squelching of a strong text, Gorman states. Al-down unless it could get new films. The Varsity in Evanston, not a member of the association, also was open. Manager Clyde Elliott said that he had pictures for the remainder of the week. Other showhouses on the north shore were closed.

One Conference Is Held.

Other developments of the day included a conference between representatives of a number of theaters and James C. Petrillo, head of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, an unconfirmed report that the association, the department of labor in Washington, was on his way here to try to end the trouble, and reiteration by both the owners and the operators that they would not recede from their stands.

Petrillo demanded of the owners of theaters in class A, which have about 1,000 seats, that the musicians be given seven days' pay for six days' work; that about nine theaters not in orchestra class, then be to continue playing of organs as a substitute for orchestras; and that there be a raise from $2 to $4 in rehearsal pay.

The theater owners also declared that Petrillo demanded the striking out of a clause in the present agreement providing for arbitration of disputes over wages and working conditions. No action was taken on the point.

So far there have been no peace moves by either side, and it was regarded as likely last night that the lockout would remain in force well into next week at least.

Although the individual theater owners would give no exact figures on the total losses due to the closing, it was estimated that the total revenue loss exceeded $225,000 a day.

Millions In Property Idle.

James E. Coston, a booking agent at 110 South Michigan avenue, fixed the value of the idle properties at $100 million, plus $15 million in theater seats.

Business Agent Maloy said he had no accurate check on how many of his men were out of work, but added that if all were let out their salary loss would be from $60,000 to $85,000 a week. Other employees to a total figured at 25,000 are also idle.

George Brown, business agent of the stage hands' union, met representatives of the theater owners' union to discuss a new agreement for the 200 men employed in movie and vaudeville houses. He presented demands to Miller, to Miller, for a wage increase of about 25 per cent. No definite action was taken. The stage hands now receive an average of $91 a week, it was said.

The same union announced that it had concluded a new agreement with the Chicago Theater Managers' association, composed of the so-called legitimate houses, during the day, with the stage hands receiving an increase of 10 to 22 per cent.

Browns' confirmed forecasts that the movie strike might become nationwide. He said he had been assured by William Canavan, president of both his union and Maloy's, that a strike would be called against all interests involved in the Chicago shutdown if the theater owners made any attempt to use nonunion labor.

Canavan upheld this view, but wanted no plain there would be no conference unless a nonunion program was adopted. The Chicago interests having the largest outside chains are the Orpheum and the Pabst groups. The Orpheum has forty-four theaters and the Pabst, of which Balaban & Katz form a part, have 54.

CRISIS IN LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 30.—(Special)—Theater managers of Los Angeles today submitted a compromise proposal to the musicians, stage hands, and motion picture operators' union to end a walkout of all theater and motion picture operators' union leaders to a citywide walkout, tying up all theaters. A national conference between theaters and motion leaders is scheduled for Friday. Existing contracts between the showhouses and unions expire tonight and next Tuesday.

FILM OPERATORS' CZAR DESCRIBED AS SOCIAL LION

Maloy, Liked by Union, Is Disliked by Owners.

Thomas E. Maloy, business agent of the Motion Picture Operators' union, who at the moment is called the czar in his peculiar domain, inasmuch as his strike orders have resulted in tying up nearly $75,000,000 in theater properties, is described by his friends as one who has striven, by example as well as precept, to raise social and moral standards.

Mr. Maloy is distinguished by his carefully tailored clothes, his automobile with liveried chauffeur, and his blooded saddle horses, on which he may be seen cantering through Washington park, or—has happened in the past—over the tan bark of show rings.

Twelve years ago Mr. Maloy was himself a picture operator. It was then he conceived the idea of the union and, with the aid of several others, formed the union.

He Isn't Pushed Around.

About 35 years old, Mr. Maloy is described as being five feet six inches tall and 5 feet 5 inches tall. He doesn't carry a revolver and he doesn't use his own fists to settle his fights. But nobody pushes him around much.

Mr. Maloy is regarded as an outstanding diplomat in labor ranks. A few months ago there was organized effort on the part of the Gueesenberg brothers, one members of the Dean O'Banion organization, to break into the Motion Picture Operators' union.

Mr. Maloy told the "czar" he would be "taken to the basement" unless he gave in. That means, in the underworld, kidnapped and held prisoner until one changes one's mind—or is killed.

Somehow he missed the underground trip and the czar passed. At the next election, despite opposition, he was re-elected business agent by a vote of 10 to 1. The police guarded the balloting and counting. Several such elections have been weathered by Mr. Maloy.

Even Sir Tim Murphy, it is said, was given a six-months' reprieve by the czar.

His efforts to add social tone to his organization have borne fruit. The average picture operator's ball is now a full dress affair and is attended by all the prominent film actors and actresses who can get to Chicago for it. Others send their regrets.

Mr. Maloy is not untraveled. He attends the international labor conventions and he has toured Europe. He has considerable political influence and candidates who want their pictures shown in movie houses usually see him first.

Popular in His Union.

In his union he is popular. He is said to keep a careful check on seniority and gives the older men places in the big downtown theaters, where the pay is higher and working conditions better.

Despite his nifty clothing and his social grace, Mr. Maloy has never made a great hit with the owners of the motion picture houses. He has been too successful in getting pay raises, for one thing. For another, he is not respectful to the owners. It is said that he never says "Mr." to any of them. "Hey, you," is his customary mode of address.

Jack Miller, business agent of the Exhibitors' association, with which the operators are at grips, once held Mr. Maloy's job.

BLAME GANG WAR BETWEEN YOUTHS AS ONE IS SHOT

That gang warfare in which revolutionaries are used has invaded the ranks of west side youths was the only theory at which the Fillmore avenue police could arrive last night when Russell Braulit, 18, was shot under the eaves of his home at 1238 o'clock.

He was favorable to fly to Constantinople, 1,000 miles away. But they encountered rain and fog, which delayed progress, and they decided to come down at Belgrade.

A warm welcome awaited them, and the airmen remarked that they did not regret the stopover, even at the expense of a little time. They navigated by earth inductor compass, and also followed the Danube river when visible.

One of the ends of the alarm is good men and there will be provided by Capt. Sondermeyer, Jugo-Slav ace who made a Belgrade to Bombay flight this year. He also gave the Americans valuable information concerning air currents and atmospheric conditions.

When informed that severe thunderstorms had passed over Bulgaria, they decided to stay for the night at Belgrade and start for Constantinople early tomorrow morning.

As the cloudburst that had struck the airdrome passed away, Brock and Schles were sighted over the horizon.

SCHOOL BOARD FACES CONTEMPT OF COURT CHARGE

Judicial Order Violated, Says Attorney.

School trustees who on Monday suspended Supt. William McAndrew on charges of insubordination arising out of his testimony in the teacher-clerk case, were warned last night that they may face contempt of court proceedings.

Urban A. Lavery, attorney for the teachers, in a letter to President J. Lewis Coath, notified the board that he would present to Judge Joseph R. David evidence which he believes will show that the trustees have violated Judge David's order that the teacher-clerk situation remain in status quo pending a decision.

As proof of his charge, Mr. Lavery said he would give the court a transcript, signed by President Coath and dated Aug. 29, inviting graduates of the Chicago Normal college to apply to the board for the jobs held by teacher-clerks.

McAndrew Still Head.

Meanwhile President Coath, after conferring with other members of the board, announced last night that Mr. McAndrew was still legally superintendent and that the schools would open Sept. 6 without a head.

Lavery's threat to the board was double-barreled. A second recitation to the court said that if the school trustees would tell if other employees in the educational department, to be called as witnesses in the teacher-clerk case, should be intimidated through fear of following Supt. McAndrew to the courthouse because of their testimony, he said.

Mr. Lavery said that he would leave Supt. McAndrew's individual case to the discretion of the latter's attorney, and that if information leading to contempt citation were filed on McAndrew's behalf it would originate with them.

Letter To Be Shown.

The letter which Lavery will present to the court as evidence of a violation of Judge David's order, he said, was given to unassigned graduates of the Chicago Normal college. The alleged letter follows:

"Pending the time when a civil service examination will be held for the position of school clerks, these positions may be filled by graduates of the Chicago Normal college who have not yet been assigned to permanent positions as teachers, at a salary of $600 per month.

"If you wish to make application for a position as school clerk pending a reorganization of this branch of the service, please fill in attached blank and mail it to M. J. Kelly, director of labor, 550 South Clark street, on or before Aug. 26, 1927. By accepting a position as school clerk you will in no way jeopardize your standing on the list for permanent assignment as a teacher."

Plan to Reopen Case.

Lavery also announced that he would reopen the teacher-clerk hearing before the court in Chancery Fred D. Lathrop, probably next week, and that Coath's letter would be submitted as evidence. Additional witnesses, he said, would be called.

An opinion rendered last night by school attorneys, President Coath said, was the basis for the board's decision to leave the superintendency open.

"Mr. McAndrew is still superintendent even though he is under suspension," he announced. "In order to avoid litigation by having a suspended and an active superintendent at the same time, we will leave matters stand. Educational matters can originate with the board by a two-thirds vote. With the cooperation of eight members we can do business on recommendations brought to the board by the assistant superintendents."

The assistants who will function in Mr. McAndrew's place until Sept. 29 are William J. Regan, Clarence H. DeBart, Morris G. Hirsch, Charles D. Lavery, and Elizabeth W. Murphy.

Others in Line for Job.

Enough Mr. McAndrew should successfully cross the state border between him and the superintendent when he comes to trial next month to find others ahead, President Coath said.

With the opinions of a dozen eminent attorneys and jurists as authority, he declared, "the board has decided that Supt. McAndrew's term legally expired May 25, 1926. Had he not been suspended for insubordination he would have been replaced any time before Sept. 29."

Salaries Held Up.
Salaries of a number of executive officers in the educational department, all of whom hold teachers' or principal certificates, have been held up for six days on the advice of James T. O'Neil, board attorney, pending the settlement of the dispute over the sub-

ASSURES MAYOR BRITISH SCHOOL PLOT IS PROVED

Gorman Tells Results of Textbook Inquiry.

ben P. Pond, "founder of the English-speaking union in Chicago, and his non-British associates" brought McAndrew to Chicago, where Muzzey's circulation to 1,000 grew by leaps and bounds.

"The Muzzey history," declares Mr. Gorman, "teaches that the cause of the Revolution was a mere 'difference of opinion as to the nature of the British empire,' and that there was a 'much deeper question whether the abuses of the British king's ministers justified armed resistance.'

It teaches the British and Tory versions that 'the Boston Tea Party' was the last straw—the colonists had added insult to injury, that 'Boston was a center of vulgar sedition,' that 'Continentals' were 'a collection of vagabonds, potters, journeymen and mechanics,' that 'America criticized and betrayed our ally France in making the peace that secured our independence,' that 'Europe was amazed at England's generosity,' and that 'it was a complete if a tame triumph of that feeling of sympathy for men of common sense, common language, traditions and institutions across the water' while the war of 1812 was 'an unfortunate conflict between the sister nations of the English tongue.'

"In this text book more space and fervor are lavished upon the battle of Quebec in 1759, which made Canada British, than upon all the battles of the Revolution, which made America a free nation."

Finds British Exalted.

"In 'Modern History' by Haye and Moon within a few pages devoted to the Revolution there is crammed a hostile version of the colonists, degrading America in the minds of our children and exalting the British empire."

Thereafter Mr. Gorman quotes from a speech made by Prof. Carlton J. H. Hayes of Columbia university, one of the authors of the text, who declared that "nationalism is a religion, whose fruits are ignorance, intolerance and docility."

"'Pioneers of Freedom in America,' by David B. Corson, Mr. Gorman says, states that the American colonists 'did not feel that it was fair to be taxed by England, unless some representatives from the colonies could have seats in the British law making body to share in making laws for the American people.' Corson, like Muzzey, 'fails to enthuse over American victories,' according to Mr. Gorman.

Insidious Books Listed.

The books which contain "insidious teachings of alienism," the report says, are as follows:

1. "History of the American People," by Edward A. Pollard, copyrighted 1927.

2. "Modern History," by Haye and Moon, 1925, the Macmillan company.

3. "History of the United States," by Willard C. Gorham, 1926, Scribner's.

7. "A History of the United States," by William H. Maca and Frank S. Bogardus, 1925, Rand McNally.

"The present superintendent of schools," Mr. Gorman says, "attempts to justify the impure histories by stating that the syllabus is the controlling factor. I have made an examination of the teachers' syllabus and find that it is too pernicious to permit serious study, and yet permits the dissemination by the teachers of English propaganda."

"This teachers' syllabus recommends to the pupils a 'contrasting of the point of view held by the colonists and the mother country,' to the end of obtaining 'an understanding that the conflict began by different points of view on the same question.'

"From my examinations of the historical textbooks now in use in the public schools of Chicago," Mr. Gorman recommends to the mayor in his communication, "I find that the teachers' syllabus and the purification of our histories and the dissemination of American patriotism can be successfully attained only by the compilation of an entirely new history."

Conductor on Last Run

After 52 Years with Road

When the Michigan Central Wolverine train pulled out last night, E. F. Ryan, 70 years old, its conductor, who entered the employ of the road 52 years ago, embarked on his last trip.

Officials said of him that he worked as a section hand in 1915 and won his promotion to conductorship of the train, one of the most important in the United States, purely on his merit.

"He retires on pension with the good wishes of the railroad he served so faithfully," the announcement stated.

CALLES ARMY TO END RED TERROR AT YANKEE MINES

Manager Hopes to Reopen Workings Soon.

BY JOHN CORNIN. (Chicago Tribune Free Service.) (Continued: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.) GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Aug. 30.—The trouble in the Amparo, Piedra Blanca and La Mamea mines, all owned by American interests, though the two latter are organized as Mexican concerns, is not anti-American, but between two labor organizations," said a prominent labor leader today. "It is a scandal as old as the organization of the C. of M. (Mexican Federation of Labor)."

The lives of the Americans at the mines are not believed in danger.

James H. Howard, general manager of all three mines, communicating yesterday from this city, said American and English officers are sticking to their jobs. They are not besieged in their homes as reported, but remain in their homes to avoid inviting trouble.

Hopes to Reopen Mines Soon.

Mr. Howard said he had hope of starting the mines operating soon, if the miners desisted from demanding a twenty per cent increase in wages.

Federal troops had not reached the mines when Mr. Howard sent word yesterday, but were reported to have arrived there today.

President Calles is said to have instructed his representative sent to the mines from Mexico City to support the labor organization having the strongest membership.

As the Red union enrolls only 500 of the 3,000 workers, the others being federation men, it appears probable that the federal government will give the decision against the Reds and back it up with a show of military strength.

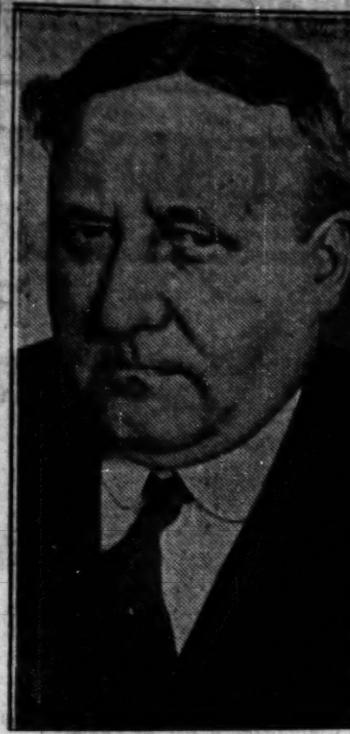

To Release U. S. Plane.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 30.—(AP)—De-cider of the Mexican treasury department has informed the customs authorities at Ojinaga to release the United States army aviators, Capt.
C. H. Reynolds and Master Sergeant
Sam Newland, who made a forced landing in Chihuahua, and permit them to fly back to the United States, provided there was no "smuggling purpose" behind their flight.

HILL REPORTED SEEN ON SLAIN MOTHER'S FARM

Expect the Surrender of Matricide Suspect.

Search for Harry Hill, the fugitive 22 year old Streator youth charged with the murder of his mother, centered last night near the central Illinois village of Fancy Prairie, north of Springfield. Authorities in Streator turned there when informed that Hill has been seen around a farm near Fancy Prairie owned by the slain Mrs. Ella Hill since Aug. 15, three days after the body was found buried in the basement of her Streator home.

Authorities were first told that Hill had been at the farm on Aug. 15, and that he had gone from the farm to a grain elevator in Fancy Prairie, where he collected $437, due his mother as her share of money received for wheat.

Woman Tells of Visit.

This information came from a housekeeper on the farm, a middle aged woman who said she was a distant relative of young Hill. She said she was employed by Alva Fulton, rented the land.

Young Hill was here with his mother about seven weeks ago, the housekeeper said. "He was here back on Aug. 15, and wanted to collect the money from the wheat. Mr. Fulton was not here at the time, and Hill then went to the grain elevator and got the money. He came that day in the green automobile in which they said he left Streator."

On the heels of this came information from a neighboring farm hand that he had seen the fugitive son who supposedly inherits his slain mother's farm, there last Sunday. That information was given State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson of La Salle county after he had been told of a telephone conversation between Dr. H. C. Hill, divorced husband of the slain woman and the father of Harry, and his brother, Dr. F. C. Hill of Athens, Ill., another town near Moline farm.

Prosecutor Hanson called a detective to be sent to Athens immediately on the possibility that the uncle was conferring with the father relative to the surrender of the boy, although both doctors denied they talked of any such thing.

Surrender Is Expected.

Belief is Streator that Harry Hill will surrender when his father sends him word. It is believed, however, that this will not be until after an indictment has been voted against the

ESTATE ACCOUNTING SHOWS BREWERY HAS DOUBLED ITS VALUE

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special]—An accounting filed in the Surrogate court today in the estate of Peter Doelger, brewer, who died in 1912, sets the value of the brewing company bearing his name at $4,231,746 in 1917 and $11,251,325 at present.

The accounting was filed by Peter Doelger Jr., Charles P. Doelger, and Charles T. Doelger as trustees of a trust, consisting of 250 of the 2,000 shares of the brewing company, which had been left to them by Peter Doelger, for life, then to the daughters, Mrs. Theresa Kusen, and eventually be distributed among the grandchildren.

The particular trust fund to be distributed under that trust to the widow and the daughter now amounts to $1,251,706.

alleged matricide. The next move will be the impaneling of the grand jury, which the authorities will ask to charge Harry with slaying his mother and burying her body in the basement of the home.

Dr. Hill's only statement so far has indicated that he is confident his son is innocent and that the killing if done by him was accidental.

HANGING VICTIM HELD SUSPENDED.

Dr. Frank A. Ross, a dentist with offices at 827 Irving Park boulevard, was charged with cruelty in a suit for separate maintenance and support of his wife, Mrs. Hazel Adella Ross. She listed his income at $1,000 a month.

Hanging victim held suspended.

A man's body yesterday returned to a vendor of meat in the city, who identified man found on Aug. 21 hanging by a rope from a billboard at Elm street and North Avenue, shot to death in Wilmette. The body was at the undertaker's rooms at 1124 Central avenue, Wilmette.

FORECAST OUSTER OF ALBERT BY COUNCIL TODAY

A final vote will be taken in the city council this afternoon on Titus Haffa's petition claiming that he was elected Feb. 21 and demanding the seat of Ald. Arthur F. Albert [484]. According to Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Bush, should the petition be granted, Haffa may be sworn in at once and Ald. Albert ruled off the floor.

The accounting was filed by Peter Doelger Jr., Charles P. Doelger, and Charles T. Doelger as trustees of a trust, consisting of 250 of the 2,000 shares of the brewing company, which had been left to them by Peter Doelger, for life, then to the daughters, Mrs. Theresa Kusen, and eventually be distributed among the grandchildren.

Report Fifty Casualties in India Religious Riots

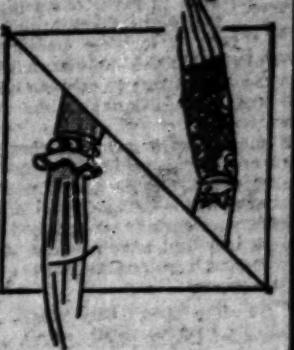

ALLAHABAD, India, Aug. 26.—(UPI)—Serious religious riots between Hindus and Moslems started at Bareilly, capital of the United Provinces, and at Cawnpore. Casualties in the United States, said today, "Al Smith will be the next President, easily sweeping the country in the election," Mr. Palmer opined.

Al Smith Next President, Says A. Mitchell Palmer

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.) PARIS, Aug. 30.—The reason President Coolidge will not run for the presidency again is because he knows he would be beaten, A. Mitchell Palmer, former attorney general of the United States, said today. "Al Smith will be the next President, easily sweeping the country in the election," Mr. Palmer opined.

RAIDERS SEIZE CITY'S LARGEST STILL; ARREST 6

$250,000 Plant Found on Near North Side.

Nothing what is said to be the largest distillery discovered in Chicago since prohibition was established, dry agents yesterday arrested six men and confiscated equipment valued at $250,000 at 731 West Ontario street.

The still is said to be the enterprise of George [Bugs] Moran, north side gang leader, was estimated to have a daily output of 300 gallons of finished alcohol. The agents seized 500 gallons of 100 proof finished alcohol and 400,000 gallons of mash. The equipment occupied the three upper floors in a five story building that displayed signs bearing the inscription, "Harry Hoffenkamp, furniture manufacturer, carriage and storage."

Find Dust Over Furniture.

Seven agents led by Frank White, acting chief of the prohibition investigation staff, participated in the raid. On the first two floors of the building they found a large quantity of crated furniture, most of which was covered with dust. A hole in the brick wall on the fourth floor showed how several of the still employees had escaped, agents said.

The six arrested are: Harry Hoffenkamp, 5618 South Winchester avenue, owner of the place; his son, Harold, 30 years old; Emil Hoffenkamp, 1311 North Crawford avenue, brother of Harry; William Brooks, 2245 Washington boulevard, elevator operator; Philip Fritzel, 658 West 59th street, and Harry Johnson, 164 West North avenue.

Harold Hoffenkamp, Johnson and Brooks were released on bonds of $1,500 each pending a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Beiter on Sept. 1. Harry and Emil Hoffenkamp were each held in bonds of $15,000 and Fritzel's bond was fixed at $1,500. They were unable to find bondsmen and were taken to the county jail.

Raiding for Four Months.

The finished alcohol, raiders said, was shipped out in carload lots on a railroad spur that runs up to the

DRY LEAGUE FOUNDER DECLARES PROHIBITION HAS 20,000,000 FOES

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—There are between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 voters in the United States today who are opposed in varying degrees to the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, founder and associate superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, declared here today.

Furthermore, the country is confronted by an organized wet uprising, which proposes to nullify the eighteenth amendment by defiance of the law instead of endeavoring to obtain its repeal by the legislative process, Dr. Russell charged.

Dr. Russell added that the "minority opposed to the law is surprisingly strong and is waging a more aggressive campaign in opposition to the law than was ever waged to prevent the abolition of the liquor traffic."

The Anti-Saloon League is in the midst of a social, civic, economic, and moral reform.

"Whenever this reform has been carried on it has required two great campaigns. The first of these is to organize and educate the people to secure the enactment of the reform desired.

"We now must enter upon the second great campaign, that of education and organization to secure the observance and enforcement of the law.

The adoption of the law did not put an end to the commanding and insatiable appetites of the human body, nor did it put a stop to the spirit of avarice."

DRY BUREAU TO PLAY LONE HAND, STOP SMUGGLING

Border Patrol Increased from 200 to 400.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—With a view to preventing the smuggling of liquor from Canada, which has grown in recent months, the border patrol westward from Buffalo, including the Detroit river area, is to be increased from 200 to 400 men, the prohibition bureau said.

The prohibition bureau instead of the customs service, according to an announcement made today by Seymour

Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Lowman said it might also be necessary to enlarge the coast guard fleet in the Great Lakes region.

Following today's conference between members of the royal Canadian commission and treasury officials called to obtain closer cooperation in closing the border against smugglers, Mr. Lowman expressed the hope that a mutually satisfactory agreement would be reached.

The United States is seeking a supplemental agreement under which Canada will attempt to stop liquor shipments to the United States instead of limiting its activity to merely giving notice that such shipments have been declared.

Canada, on the other hand, wants the United States to do its utmost to stop smuggling of industrial alcohol to Canada, for the reason that such shipments are seriously cutting into the domestic revenue.

Treasury officials insist that the Hughes-La Pointe run smuggling treaty, adopted in 1924, has not proved effective.

RAIL SWALLOWED BOY, DIES.

Ernest Spidato, 18 months old, 437 West 25th place, died yesterday shortly after he had swallowed an iron screw, which he had found in the back yard of his home.

3 CALUMET PARK OFFICIALS AND 26 OTHERS INDICTED

Chief of Police Andrew Bentkowski of Calumet Park, formerly Burr Oak, Trustee Leonard Kluck and Policeman John Yakas and twenty-six other residents of the suburb were named in five indictments returned yesterday by the federal grand jury charging them with violation of the prohibition laws.

Chief Bentkowski is charged with exacting a tribute of $1 for each barrel of mash cooked in Calumet Park. It is alleged, the chief, Kluck and Yakas instructed property owners to rent their premises to still operators. The indictment charges a conspiracy to commit fifteen large stills.

Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel Anderson presented the case to the grand jury. Several residents of Calumet Park have made statements to government officials, it was said, and are expected to take the witness stand for the government.

NO ROADS THIS YEAR.

The acting chairman of the road and bridge committee of the county board says he does not think there will be any progress in road widening this summer.

"It is dangerous to attempt to lay concrete after Nov. 15," he said, "and there is only a bare possibility that the board can get started on any contracts that involve concrete work in time to beat that date."

The voters of Cook county, a year ago, authorized the county board to borrow $15,000,000 for road building. The money was needed because the roads in the vicinity of Chicago were narrow and congested. The need for additional construction was urgent then and it is even more urgent now.

The chairman of the committee admitted that the surveys have been made and specifications drawn up. The failure to make a start this summer means that the congested roads will be blocked for the better part of next year, a delay, in all, of at least two years in carrying out the will of the voters. The influence of politics and politicians may account for the delay, in part, at least. The 'rest' must be attributed to the incompetence or unwillingness of the county commissioners to do the work for which they were elected.

THOSE AWFUL AMERICANS.

This season of the year is home coming time for travelers abroad. Schools and colleges soon be in session again and the journeymen are returning with their labeled luggage, their tales of stormy seas, and their fables about the places they visited which were so much more picturesque than those you saw.

One of the remarkable traits about these returning voyagers is that, to believe their stories, they were the only respectable, courteous, decently representative Americans abroad. There was that from Kansas City who talked so loudly about the money he made in the packing business that the whole ship's dining salon could hear him. And that couple in the British museum who just boasted out loud about "doing it" in an hour and a quarter. And that woman who chewed gum and talked about the "frogs" right among a lot of well bred French people at the Café de la Paix and naturally some of them understood English. To believe it all, the United States sends nothing but a pack of hoodlums abroad each summer.

In fact, we have noticed the same thing ourselves and nearly died of mortification to think that foreigners would judge us by these vulgar people.

The truth is, of course, that every nation has its barbarians and, like barbarians, they are active persons fond of loudness, and vain of showing themselves abroad. Perhaps America offends more acutely because, as a class, we live amid noise and like it, enjoy and judge by wealth more than other peoples, and have more reverence for modernity than we have for the antique.

A private communication from a correspondent in France concerning the French opinion of the United States remarks on the irritation caused by the frugal French people by the arrogant wealth of American tourists. Recent news dispatches tell of an American business man and an American artist who got up a souvenir ash tray decorated with an indecent picture which much offended the French people. Arriving members of the American Legion permit their pictures to be taken drinking beer and wine as it escaping the Voitard act was their chief purpose in holding their convention in Paris. A gentleman named Lévrier, who flew from New York to Germany, stopped in Paris on his return trip and is now recorded as poking another gentleman in the nose and getting poked in the nose himself, and a little harder, all over a former American lady at present known as the Queen of Diamonds.

These little incidents are not unusual with the ordinary Baudelaire-burdened American traveler whose errors abroad are those of dismay at a foreign tongue and exotic customs, but not of breeding. But they do the United States no good even though they are few and far between. Unless Americans themselves, by dint of public opinion, do something to rectify matters Americans will soon enjoy universally the title of the worst mannered travelers abroad.

And in our own travel diary that title is reserved for the upper class Englishman and the German war profiteer.

As a footnote to this threnody on travelers we would say a word concerning the American traveler in America. As Paris is a playground for the visitor from America to Europe, so is a big city like Chicago a playground for visitors from the American small town and countryside—with this distinction, you can spot an American in Paris, but the citizens from Peoria or Tolosa or Streator wears the disguise of conformity when he comes among us to disport himself. Disport himself he does, even as his brother who crosses the ocean to buy champagne in Montmartre at 100 francs a three. And Chicago gets the blame. It is "American Wants to Take Eiffel Tower Apart" in the headlines when one of the boys gets embarked abroad. Over on this side, when a gay young blade from downtown runs amuck from too many chocolate malts and too much taxi riding, it's just another example of Chicago rowdyism.

A NEW SPIRIT IN AVIATION.

Brook and Schles flew the Atlantic to London, and at this writing are pushing on to Constantinople. They capture the imagination. They are going around the world and hope to break the record of 28 days for the journey. Whether they succeed or not, their experience will be valuable in improving engine and airplane design and instruments for what has come to be called aviation.

Airplanes were invented and improved by civilians. By the time the war began, aviation had progressed until, though still dangerous, it was not suicidal. Then the governments took hold of it in earnest and for ten years or more almost all invention, design, and flying was directly under governmental control. It is only now emerging. Many persons still think of aviation as a matter in which governments rather than individuals are interested.

We believe it is fortunate that the art and science of flying is no longer in government hands. The results of liberation are already clear. Lindbergh's flight was an independent venture. Though he has an army rank, Lindbergh is a civilian aviator with a civilian's freedom from regulation and restriction. The same may be said of almost every man who has contributed to the remarkable series of overseas flights by Americans in recent months. Almost without exception their inspiration was civilian. It does not lie within the nature or province of governments to take magnificent risks or to pay for their being taken.

Under the stimulus of private enterprise, aviation may be expected to show great progress. Jaunts such as Brook and Schles have undertaken are symptomatic of the new spirit which is at work, a spirit which governmental monopoly stifled but could not entirely kill.

PRESS CENSORSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

Five newspapers which have been suppressed by the Fascist government have asked a consideration of the topic of press censorship in time of peace by the international press conference at Geneva under the auspices of the League of nations.

The request, it is reported, is already under the official anesthetic. It threatens that harmony which it is the business of enterprises of the league to preserve, whether or not anything else comes of them. And in this instance at least the decision seems justified in common sense.

The protestants are all partisan organs whose activities are of concern chiefly to Italy and their suppression would seem to be an affar of the Italian people and not one for external interference. Nations that believe in freedom of utterance may think the Italians are making a mistake in accepting its suppression and, in all friendly feeling for them, regret what seems to us the elimination of an essential element of progress.

But to permit Italian factional organs to belabor their opponents in an international forum would do no good and for an international conference to consider their complaints would be a futile impertinence.

Nevertheless, the subject of censorship over news reports to be sent out of a country has some important international implications. We do not deny the right of the Fascist government in Italy or the soviet at Moscow to apply this censorship as an incident of sovereignty and national independence. But we do seriously doubt its expediency. Censorship of news export must be interpreted as evidence of instability in a nation's affairs and of an unwillingness to have facts known abroad. Of course, it is officially defended by the charge that it is colored and distorted, but the mere effect cannot carry much weight outside of the country whose government makes it. The net effect of such censorship is suspicion and loss of confidence, if not a decisive conclusion that it is concealing facts the government cannot afford to have the world know.

This is not a mere question of pride in the good opinion of mankind. It is a question of credit which is likely to have an important bearing on such practical matters as foreign loans and political relations. Interruptions of finance alone call for a free exchange of information and a mutual confidence between the creditor and debtor nations which is incompatible with the suppression of news.

Editorial of the Day

DIVERSIFYING.

(The Blooming [Ill.] Daily Bulletin.)

James O'Donnell Bennett, looking over the middle west for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, finds Wisconsin "sitting pretty" in spite of two years of poor prices for grain products and a doubtful prospect for staple crops this fall. The secret of their happy situation he sums up in a word—"diversification." Wisconsin farmers have been taught this word for many years; it has become, Bennett declares, almost a religion with them. The result of their devotion to it is seen in steady prosperity at a time when agriculture in general is suffering from a serious case of flue.

Even the casual tourist who motors northward from McLean county readily sees as he travels along the confirmation of Bennett's observations. Beginning somewhere in the vicinity of Dixon and following route 2 through the lower half of Wisconsin he notes the presence everywhere of two indicators of farm prosperity—dairies and chicken houses. Butter fat, eggs, and chickens spell steady income and certain profits to the rural population of this vast dairy and poultry area. There is little of the "seasonal" about the two industries. The demand for the product goes on month after month and is affected but little by the reports of the stock market and the pendulum of industry. Instead of living from crop time to crop time—hope—frequently to be disappointed—the farmer who milks cows and feeds chickens collects the proceeds of his industry monthly. And the merchant with whom he trades receives his payments monthly.

Milking cows and feeding chickens imply a little closer attention to work than corn and small grain farming. But Wisconsin and northern Illinois readily demonstrate that the trouble brings ample returns.

STIFF JOINTS.

E. writes: What is ankylosis? Is it curable? If curable, what is the method used?

REPLY.

According to Stedman's medical dictionary the word "ankylotic" means "stiffening or fixation of a joint." It is derived from a Greek word which means "to bind." You merely say you have a stiff joint or joints, but you said it in near Greek rather than English. But that only answers part of your question, and not the part you wanted answered. You can see, however, how impossible it is to answer unless you tell which joints are stiff, how many joints are stiff, how stiff, are they long or have they been stiff, and what caused them to be stiff. All that I can do is to point the gun, ankylotic way, shut my eyes and pull the trigger. Here goes.

In a loose manner of speaking, when two things are joined together, the hings and the bones, and all else that is connected in that area, form a joint. A joint is composed of the contiguous ends of at least two bones, the cartilages that hold them together, and the capsule that surrounds the whole. It is moist, and smooth, in order to permit easy frictionless motion within proper limits.

In complete ankylosis the ends of the bones are grown together or held together so as to prevent motion. In partial ankylosis motion is considerably impeded with bone which is swollen. Among the causes of ankylosis are infections, such as tubercular, rheumatic, and gonococcal. Injury is a frequent cause.

The treatment of ankylosis depends very much on the cause. There are certain general methods that may be a part of the treatment of ankylosis due to any cause.

As long as ankylosis is not complete, movement of the affected joint will help the joint to move even though using it hurts. If it is not used it will stick.

To stop using a sore joint in a chronic arthritis is permanently to give up the joint. In some instances a fair amount of force can be used in loosening up a joint. However, that will not accomplish much unless the movement gained by the force is retained by daily use of the joint.

Massage is of great service but it acts principally on the muscles which help to move the joint. In most joint conditions heat locally applied is of great service.

HOW WE TREATED NOSEBLEEDS.

F. H. G. writes: An experience I once had with a nosebleed was of interest to others.

During my boyhood I had persistent nosebleeds. They would start on the slightest provocation, or without any provocation whatever. Sometimes they approached the serious stage, for other members of the family became alarmed. They tried everything they could think of, but could accomplish nothing definite.

One day I chanced to read an article about a noted English prize fighter—I think it was Slavin—who had received an exceptionally heavy blow over the nose. The item said that after receiving this blow Slavin had suffered with severe nosebleeds. I did a lot of thinking over that and, although unable to explain the connection, finally got a suggestion out of it. Next time a nosebleed started I gave my liver a stirring up. I took my padophyllin, as I recall it, and the nosebleed stopped. After that I always followed the same plan and was not troubled any more with nosebleeds. I have no idea how to explain this matter technically, but in my case at least there evidently was a definite connection between the condition of the liver and the nosebleeds.

REPLIES.

There is one risk in the treatment you mention of. It may cause constipation and that may possibly be of interest to others.

You were cured. That is fixed, let us say. Neither your speculation nor mine may be of much value, but that is more or less outside the main point.

My speculation as to the cause is as follows:

James O. was having nosebleeds because he was being supplied a little in advance of what he needed.

MAYOR STATES HIS PLATFORM ON EVE OF TOUR

Adds Farm Cause to Flood Control, America First.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

On the eve of his departure next Tuesday for a tour of middle western states in support of the flood control program, Mayor Thompson last night completed the draft of a brochure detailing his views on the subjects he proposes to discuss in cities which have been designated as centers for massmeetings.

In order to set at rest any speculation which may have arisen concerning a definition for America First, the foremost of his political principles, the mayor has written out paragraphs in some profusion. He has developed the need for flood control in statistical and literary extension. And thirdly has he added to his platform the plank of farm relief, which in a manner of speaking, interwoven with the other planks in such a manner, is the most politically expedient for the supporters of one plank to give support to another. The formation of a new Mississippi valley bloc in congress is a possibility in the view of some of the mayor's supporters.

Defines America First.

In defining America First the mayor's brochure presents these epigrams:

"The Stars and Stripes forever, not for Europe."

"Following the advice of George Washington and 26 Presidents who succeeded him to maintain friendly relations with all nations, entangling alliances must now be avoided."

"Retaining independence of word, thought, and deed."

"Government to be administered at Washington, not on the shores of Lake Geneva."

"To be our own Body politic, not a part of the Leg of nations."

"That our first duty is to put our own house in order before sending good American dollars to rehabilitate foreign countries."

Asks Recall of Critical Envoy.

"To recall any American ambassador, minister or consul who by word or deed criticizes his country or her intentions."

IDENTITY BODY FOUND IN RIVER.

The body of a man taken from the Calumet river at 109th street Monday by coast guard men was identified yesterday as that of Olaf Malmros, 54, of 18105 Irving avenue.

Urges Closing of Alton Gates.

"To shut our immigration gates to the paupers and other undesirables of Europe and the Orientals of Asia, as well as those whose political creeds are in conflict with the principles of our republic."

"To stand steadfast against the repudiation by foreign debtors of money loaned them by the United States, especially the pro-American propaganda which will increase the tax burdens of our people."

On flood control the mayor says:

"Will America, so quick to respond to the appeal for help beyond the sea, forsake her own people? The United States must accept the responsibility."

IN AND THE SWEDER.

Aug. 28.—It is so very unusual to talk about the nationality of S.A. Lindbergh, especially that that is of Swedish origin.

Its people so very little. Is that America has yet to discover? Even so cultured a person as Mrs. Jacob Bauer in a letter recently quoted in her column, with reference to which she visited as a delegate to the international congress of the commerce. She writes:

"I was a surprise to us, for its name, its culture, its history, entirely unknown at home."

What a delightful country up north, about little is known. It has been a others who have paid it a Swedish people. I admit, do themselves much. They are self-sufficient people. They own life, keeping their own when they travel, which they do to speaking few or not languages, it is mostly the language of the Swedes, only of the Swedes that are at all to tourists, strange therefore that so little of the true characteristics of the people. Very seldom is their still determination known for own family life. It appears there is to be no un-patriotic stone wall, when one or a principle in the same. This side of them is unknown outside the family circle, but brought up by them all are naturally makes for law and order, and when it does not, which it is likely to be, are in exile and transplanted in lands, where they are usually heard from. Their father, the countryman Sweden, seems to have had some characteristic fighting in Washington for an ideal, which was right, and which was very clearly seen when right used, people who are fond of Voltaire's "Charles XII." It is beautifully written a revelation to those who of the true Swedish character.

This side of them is unknown outside the family circle, but brought up by them all are naturally makes for law and order, and when it does not, which it is likely to be, are in exile and transplanted in lands, where they are usually heard from. Their father, the countryman Sweden, seems to have had some characteristic fighting in Washington for an ideal, which was right, and which was very clearly seen when right used, people who are fond of Voltaire's "Charles XII." It is beautifully written a revelation to those who of the true Swedish character.

METER ATTORNEY WRITES PETITION TO REVISE PERMIT

Council Action Delayed Awaiting Outcome.

Harry O. Blomst, Mayor Thompson's water meter attorney, started work yesterday on a petition to the war department to revise its lake water withdrawal permit by modifying clause eight, which requires universal metering in the city.

The petition will be formally placed before the army engineers within a few days, Mr. Blomst said, in accordance with an arrangement concluded between Maj. Gen. Jadwin and himself in a conference last Saturday. Gen. Jadwin promised to give the petition prompt consideration while Mr. Blomst agreed that, meanwhile, the city council would take no final vote on the meter repeal ordinance.

Defense Charge Blunted. What arguments will be set forth in the petition, the attorney declined to say. He indicated, however, that it will charge that the present ordinance was foisted upon the city in 1925 by the sanitary district; that it went through the council under duress, and that it cannot be enforced pending a Supreme court decision in the lake diversion case.

It probably will do more further that the mayor's substance wants control plan is preferable to meters in meeting the government's desire to conserve water.

"Maj. Jadwin has assured me our petition will receive a courteous hearing and we hope it will be acted upon favorably," said Mr. Blomst. "What will happen if it is rejected he did not say, although Mayor Thompson has stated publicly that no more meters will be installed, regardless of consequences."

The mayor's position is to give full rein to the parleying with Washington and in the council. Meanwhile no meters are being installed and his campaign promise is fulfilled. Nobody has questioned his right to, in effect, nullify the ordinance by executive order, although technically it is still in full force.

Council Action Delayed.

Backing up Mr. Blomst's agreement with Gen. Jadwin, the council finance committee yesterday passed a resolution presented by the mayor's floor leader, Ald. Oscar Nelson, stating that final council action be postponed until the aldermanic committee, slated to go to Washington next week, returns with a report.

By that time, it is expected, Mr. Blomst will have his petition in the hands of his leaders, and the whole question may either be ironed out or brought to a showdown before the meter ordinance is formally repealed.

WALTON LEAGUE GIVES ITS ELK REFUGE TO U.S.

Officials of the Isaak Walton League of America yesterday turned over to the government a 1,760 acre tract of hay land known as elk refuge in the Jackson hole country of Wyoming.

The tract adjoins the government refuge.

It is used to feed the southern Yellowstone park elk herd during the winter.

Charles W. Folds, chairman of the executive committee of the league, as he sent the deed to Washington, said that the property is being turned over to the government with the stipulation that it shall be used for the original purpose only and that it shall be known as the Isaak Walton League Elk Refuge.

Funds for the purchase of the land were raised in 1926 by the league when it was disclosed that starvation threatened to wipe out the elk herd.

BRITISH PRESS BACKS CECIL ON DISARM CHARGE

Claims League Is Tool of Few Big Powers.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain left for Geneva today, unaccompanied by Lord Cecil, whose sensational resignation from the British cabinet last night is the big news in all the London papers today. Most of them support Lord Cecil in his position that the league of nations has been made the tool of a few great powers and that the die hard wing has done all in its power to maintain the status quo for world peace and disarmament.

It was announced today that Lord Gadow, undersecretary of state for war, will take over Lord Cecil's work at Geneva, but no announcement has been made yet as to filling Lord Cecil's place in the cabinet. Lord Cecil was chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, a job with no duties, which is usually filled by a distinguished man whose advice and cooperation is wanted by the cabinet.

A minor surprise was sprung today with the announcement that Lord Cave, lord chancellor, will be acting prime minister during the absence of Prime Minister Baldwin and Sir Austen. Winston Churchill had been tipped for the honor, but at the last moment Mr. Baldwin designated Lord Cave, who is a good old-fashioned Tory and acceptable to the die hards, who die like Mr. Churchill's liberal history.

Calls Resignation Unnecessary.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, arrived in Paris this evening enroute to Geneva. He declared the resignation of Lord Cecil last night was "quite unnecessary." Sir Austen will be received at the Hotel de Ville tomorrow, where he will be presented with a golden book at ceremonies attended by Foreign Minister Aristide Briand and other high dignitaries.

Hard Blow to League.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

GENEVA, Aug. 30.—The withdrawal of Lord Cecil and M. de Jouvenal, British and French delegates respectively, from active participation in the league of nations' activities is the hardest blow since the league's inception, in the viewpoint of several league delegates, who expect to force an issue on the question whether Geneva shall continue as a political factor in European diplomacy.

The collapse of the naval conference was not the sole reason for Lord Cecil's resignation. Privately, Lord Cecil

INVITE NORWEGIANS TO DEDICATION OF LEIF ERICSON DRIVE

The Stavanger Lag and the Sloopers two Norwegian American organizations, are going to be represented by large delegations at the dedication of Leif Ericson drive in Chicago, Sept. 11. Invitations to the Lag and to the Sloopers to attend the exercises honoring the Vikings who reached America a thousand years ago were extended by a representative of the city of Chicago at dual conventions of the two societies in Sandwich, Ill.

The Stavanger Lag is made up of Americans of Norwegian extraction or birth who have come from the Stavanger Norway area. The Sloopers are descendants of 52 persons who sailed in a small sloop for America from the port of Stavanger July 4, 1835. The journey across the sea took 97 days.

At the convention of the Stavanger Lag, which is the largest Norwegian American society in the United States, C. J. Eastvold of Volin, S. D., was elected president for the eighteenth congress to provide conservation legislation.

Admits Overproduction.
James A. Veneay of Tulsa, Okla., general counsel for the Carter Oil company, although agreeing that the oil industry was in a demoralized condition due to overproduction, starting last November, said it was his opinion that federal legislation to control the industry would be unconstitutional.

At present, Secretary of the Interior and chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation board, and Henry L. Doherty, father of the pool plan for conserving petroleum and gas resources, warned that oil waste is a national menace and declared that the oil association should ask the next congress to provide conservation legislation.

Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder yesterday dedicated the airplane that has been suspended over the Jackson boulevard archway of the postoffice. The plane, named the Arthur C. Lueder, has flown 60,753½ miles in the government air mail service and is similar to the ships piloted by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh when he was flying the mail between Chicago and St. Louis. RACE FOR PROFITS PERILS U. S. OIL, ATTORNEYS TOLD

Work and Doherty Urge Federal Control.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A race for profits threatens to deplete America's oil resources, the mineral law section of the American Bar association was told today in a tripartite message.

Albert Work, secretary of the interior and chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation board, and Henry L. Doherty, father of the pool plan for conserving petroleum and gas resources, warned that oil waste is a national menace and declared that the oil association should ask the next congress to provide conservation legislation.

Bar Losses Individually.

A "machine age" has usurped the former individualism and authority of the American bar, Nathan William MacChesney, Chicago attorney, today told the conference of bar association delegates of which he is chairman.

The time was when the executive humbly sought conference with his counsel. Today the same executive is quite as apt to punch the bell and ask to have the lawyer step in.

The ideal position for the lawyer is to be able to tell his client what he should and ought to do, not to be in a position where he has to do what he is told by the client what he wants done.

Contempt for Can.

Referring to the lack of observance of the law by members of the bar, Mr. MacChesney referred to the address of the attorney general of the United States before the Pennsylvania State Bar association, in which he deplored the flippant and seering attitude toward the law on the part of the public.

"The nation should be able to look to the bar for the maintenance of order and the enforcement of law," Mr. MacChesney added. "If it cannot do so, it is a rudderless ship adrift in a storm."

Others of the party descended into the Chicago freight tunnel and toured through spaces sixty feet underground. Bridge engineers in the group inspected the La Salle street span now under construction.

Prof. Anthony Gramberg, an engineer from Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, found some fault with the city's narrow streets lined with tall structures shutting out the sunlight. He explained that German laws limit a building's height to the width of the street on which it is located. As a result, he said, the streets get plenty of sunlight and air.

The visitors last night were guests at a Chinese dinner given by a construction materials concern. Today they will visit the stockyards, insurance underwriters' laboratories, the Union station, public utility plants, and city bridges.

ARCHITECTS FROM GERMANY PRAISE CHICAGO SKYLINE

Many of the 115 German engineers and architects visiting Chicago praised the city's downtown skyline yesterday as they surveyed the tall buildings and towers from the top of the new Bourse building at Wacker drive and La Salle street. The Tribune tower came in for favorable comment and will be visited during the week.

LIFE GUARD FALLS FROM PIER; DIES OF BROKEN NECK

Credited with having saved the lives of twenty-one persons during the three years he served as a junior life guard at Evanston beaches, John Hopkins, 15 years old, met death through an odd turn of fate yesterday when he fell off the same pier from which he had often dived into the lake.

The youth kept a collection of ribbons and prizes awarded for swimming feats the high dive stand while he was playing "follow the leader" at the Lee street beach. His neck was broken. As friends picked him up he said, "Gee, I got an awful bump," and became unconscious. Before Dr. H. E. Glyde arrived he was dead.

Small-bubble lather attacks beard at base

Softens every whisker close to skin, right where razor works

COLGATE "small-bubble" lather seeps between whiskers. Myriads of midget bubbles douse every hair at the base—soften it ready for shaving. Look at the lather pictures below.

How "small-bubble" lather works

The moment Colgate lather forms on your beard, two things happen:

1. The soap in the lather breaks up and floats away on the oil film that covers each hair.

2. With the oil film gone, millions of tiny, water-saturated bubbles bring and hold an abundance of water down to the base of the beard, right where the razor does its work.

Because your beard is properly softened at its base, your razor works easily and quickly. Every hair is cut close and clean. And your face remains cool and comfortable throughout the day.

A Week's Better Shaves—FREE

Once you try this unique "small-bubble" lather, we believe you'll never go back to ordinary shaving methods. Prove this for yourself—at our expense. Just clip the coupon. We will send you a generous trial-size tube—free.

AL SMITH IS FIRST LOVE OF DETROIT WET DEMOCRATS

His Name to Be Filed in Michigan Primaries.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 30.—[Special.] Gov. Al Smith of New York is strong among the Democrats in this part of Michigan, the wettest spot this side the Canadian border, and leaders of prominence say he is likely to have the bulk of the state's delegates at the national convention. The McAdoo sentiment has faded, the Democrats have no favorite son, and the Wayne county organization has endorsed Smith and instructed the central committee to file him in the presidential primaries next year. Also it has issued a blanket invitation to other candidates to come in and make a fight of it.

Predict Smith Walkaway.

Smith shouters, who see numerous缺点 that as a liberal on the wet-dry issue, Smith would be away with the Democratic primaries in Michigan, of the states which went dry ahead of national prohibition. Some ten years ago this state voted dry, and in 1918, after liquor went under the ban, the police were pinching men at Lansing even for carrying it on their breath. But the politicians say a liberalized spirit has stolen over the state, just as happened in Ontario.

The liberal stand of Senator James Couzens on the matter of beer helped him materially in his fight for the senate three years ago, and the politicians point to this as indicating a liberal candidate has an advantage, other conditions being equal, in Michigan.

Democrats Haven't Chance.

The Democrats, of course, haven't the ghost of a show to carry the state in the national election. Michigan being among the first three or four strongest Republican states. Even in the Bull Moose year, when Roosevelt Sept. 14, it was one of the three states where Wilson ran third, Taft running in second place.

But the Smith boosters maintain that the New York governor has the best chance of any Democratic candidate to carry enough states to win, and they argue that although the wet and dry issue will probably not be in the party platform, the outstanding issue nevertheless will be liberalization in the interests of temperance and sobriety. In the Democratic presidential primaries they say he will get an overwhelming vote in the Detroit, and that he ought to carry at least thirty per cent of the outside counties, embracing the big ones.

Hard Luck with Candidates.

In the last two presidential primaries the Democrats of Michigan have been in the somewhat unique position of giving the preference to candidates who later ran out on them. In 1924 Henry Ford carried the Democratic presidential primaries over Senator Farris, the first Democratic senator from Michigan in seventy years. After the Democrats had voted for Uncle Hank as a true blue Jeffersonian, as they fancied, he came out for Coolidge.

In 1928 likewise the Michigan delegates were victims of misplaced confidence. In the last Henry Ford carried the Republican presidential primaries, which were carried by Senator Hiram Johnson although many of the delegates personally favored Wood. Hoover, however, carried the Democratic primaries over McAdoo, Bryan, Palmer and Edwards. When Hoover was announced as a Republican and put into the California primaries, the old line politicians are still saying that Hoover would have had a good chance to be nominated by the Democrats at San Francisco had he kept quiet.

FIND BODY OF YACHT CAPTAIN KILLED IN BLAST AT GREEN BAY

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., Aug. 30.—(AP)—The body of Capt. William Brooks, who lost his life Aug. 6 when the yacht Francis IV exploded and sank, in Green Bay near Egg Harbor, was recovered today on the shore by William Kalms, an employee of a summer resort.

The body was identified by initials and a four leaf clover tattooed on the left arm.

The body will be sent to Toronto, Ont., the home of Capt. Brooks' widow.

The body of a Japanese cook also killed in the accident has not been found.

Mrs. Helen Johnson, wife of C. W. Johnson, Chicago owner of the yacht, also was killed by the explosion.

Council Urged to Transfer Holden Park to West Park

Transfer of Holden park by the city to the west park board, with a provision that a $250,000 community house be built within two years, was recommended to the city council yesterday by its finance committee. The park is a forty acre tract bounded by Rock, Central and Parkside avenues, and Lake street. Included in the transfer is the Chicago public library branch, which proposes to build a new $100,000 branch library.

REED SUMMONS SENATE'S SLUSH COMMITTEE HERE

Pennsylvania political scandals and not those of Illinois will occupy the attention of a conference in Chicago on Wednesday of next week. The meeting was called yesterday by United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chairman of the senate campaign funds investigating committee created during the last session of Congress.

In Chicago yesterday to attend the funeral of J. Ogden Armour, Senator Reed said that the meeting was called to see what is to be done about certain Pennsylvania ballots that will be destroyed under the state law on the third Tuesday in September unless there is intervention of some kind.

"Then you will not take up the Illinois matter?" Senator Reed was asked.

"I don't know of any need of taking it up," he replied.

"There have been no developments in connection with it?"

"I haven't been asked any."

He was asked if his committee was still alive following the adjournment of the session that created it.

"I haven't any more doubt that the special committee is alive and fully qualified to proceed in its functions under the resolution of the senate," he said, "than that I'm sitting in this room. The question of the continuation of the committee from session to session was settled in the Dougherty case decided by the United States Supreme court."

FLOG OHIO MAN AS HE TALKS OF POLICE BUNGLING

Akron, O., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Portage county official pushed an investigation into the flogging of Alfred Harris, Negro, 16, by eight masked men armed with knotted ropes early today and indicated tonight that they would be ready to question suspects tomorrow.

Harris was said by physicians to be suffering from severe shock and lacerations on his back. He staged a dramatic scene in the hospital when he was driven into Summit county to a lonely spot where he claimed a severe lashing was administered with knotted ropes.

The masked band took him from his workshop in Kent shortly after midnight and demanded the petition he had told the police he had.

He was taken to his committee was still alive following the adjournment of the session that created it.

"I haven't any more doubt that the special committee is alive and fully qualified to proceed in its functions under the resolution of the senate," he said, "than that I'm sitting in this room. The question of the continuation of the committee from session to session was settled in the Dougherty case decided by the United States Supreme court."

COUNCIL URGED TO HELP LIGHT UP RANDOLPH ST.

In conformity with the plan to install new lights along Randolph street similar to those on State street, the city council's finance committee yesterday recommended a $45,000 appropriation to pay the city's share of the cost, $31,000 for lamps at the city hall and $12,000 at the public library. The entire cost of the new system will be $400,000, business men along the street paying the remainder. The new white way is to extend through the loop from Michigan avenue to Wells street.

BAREFOOT freedom with shoes on

LITTLE feet can't be healthy and happy when tender little foot-bones are obliged to fight for every move against stiff, unyielding soles.

Give your children shoes with the healthy, barefoot freedom and comfort of Spartan Leather Soles. They're made of an entirely different leather that is unusually light and flexible, slip proof, damp proof and longer wearing.

But first and foremost Spartan is a more responsive leather that allows the little foot-bones the natural freedom they must have to grow strong and healthy.

And because it is so pliant, because it flexes as easily as little feet themselves, it frees them from the painful and harmful practice of "breaking in" new shoes. Last, but not least, Spartan gives you longer wear that means a substantial cut in the most costly item of the youngsters wearing apparel.

GRATON & KNIGHT COMPANY, Worcester, Mass.

Most quality department stores and shoe shops are now selling Spartan Soled shoes in various makes, styles and prices.

Genuine Spartan Soles have spots of Gold tattooed into the leather. Note—the Gold Spots have only been recently adopted so that at present many stores may have Spartan Soled shoes without this identification. The dealer's word, however, will protect you.

BRIAND PRAISES GERMAN EFFORTS TO KEEP PEACE

Deserve French Support, Says Minister.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Aug. 30.—Choosing the closing dinner of the twenty-fourth inter-parliamentary conference tonight as the occasion to answer French and foreign criticisms of his policy to bring stabilization to war torn Europe, Foreign Minister Aristide Briand praised Germany's efforts for peace.

His statement regarded such a direct answer to recent speeches by Premier Poincaré as accusing the Reich of bad faith in the recent Franco-German negotiations. Furthermore, the speech leaves no doubt that M. Briand is determined not to give further ground to the French nationalists on his pet policy—rapprochement of the two nations—and that he will stand or fall on the issue.

Behind the Work of League.
The foreign minister also replied to Lord Cecil and M. de Jouvenal. He defended the League of Nations' accomplishments, which he declared were "but beginnings to future and far greater achievements."

The dinner was attended by hundreds of parliamentarians from thirty-four nations, twenty of them from the United States.

Going quickly to the core of the subject, M. Briand and German delegations to the conference which scrapped all week over the Rhineland troops and security, M. Briand said:

"I, as a French minister, do not hesitate to recognize fully that in according to the conception of such accords as Locarno and in assuming their responsibility, the German government have given proof of great courage and of a real spirit of peace. They have a right to support which we must give them and which I, for my part, will furnish happily."

Says Accords Prevented War.

And to Lord Cecil and M. de Jouvenal, who resigned from the League because too many private accords were being made outside of the assembly, he said:

"These accords, made between countries directly exposed to risk conflict, should have substituted juridical procedure with war."

The League naturally has failed to live up to the hopes of all idealists, M. Briand said, but "no one can scorn or depreciate its tangible results thus far."

FUNERAL SERVICE REVEALS VICTIM IS DELYLE ALDA

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday denied a petition for rehearing in the case of several lessees in the Auditorium hotel building against the Chicago Auditorium association, owner of the building.

The higher court recently remanded to United States Judge James H. Wilkerson the lessees' suit, which asks an injunction to restrain the association from tearing down the building. The association wishes to replace the present Auditorium hotel and erect a modern skyscraper.

Judge Wilkerson had previously ruled that he had no jurisdiction in the case and dismissed the hearing.

ZION CONGRESS MEETS TO DEBATE PALESTINE PLANS

RASILE, Switzerland, Aug. 30.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency.)—The fifteenth Zionist congress met here today with 250 delegates from all parts of the world to take up proposed changes in the colonization policy in Palestine and in organization changes.

The strength of the delegation of American Zionists, who were to hold the balance of power at the congress, was diminished by a decision that the credentials of the American delegates are not valid, since no elections took place. The court finally decided that 46 of the American delegates be admitted and unseated nine.

Judge Wilkerson had previously ruled that he had no jurisdiction in the case and dismissed the hearing.

Nathum Sokolow was elected president of Sokol, Rabbi Meyer Berlin of New York, Rabbi Max Heller of New Orleans, Dr. Schachat, Miss Henrietta Stoold and Dr. Stephen S. Wise of New York were elected vice presidents.

GIANTS TAKE SERIES FINAL FROM CUBS

HELEN WILLS IS AGAIN AMERICAN TENNIS QUEEN

Beats Betty Nuthall for Title.

New York, Aug. 30.—(Special)—The second coronation of "Queen Helen L." took place here this afternoon. The Wills dynasty was established by 4-6 of the sister Betty Nuthall, the 16 year old British pretender, in the final round of the forties annual women's national tennis championship, 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Wills climbed back to the seat of the mighty, from which she was ousted by illness last year, and from which her successor, Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, was ejected by Charlotte Hooper Chapin last Friday, with high expectations and bright prospects of reigning for another year or at least. Her former tenure of the title extended from 1925, when she captured it for the first time at the age of 17, through 1926.

Unbeaten This Season.

Helen's recovery of the highest honors within reach of her sex in the American tennis world marks the culmination of an undefeated season started with victories over the stars of many nations. Her greatest achievement was the winning of the British title, the unofficial world's champion ship, at Wimbledon.

Since returning from her foreign conquests the Berkeley girl has taken part in singles play in only one tournament besides the national. She beat Helen Jacobs, the other fresh from her home town, in the final round of the Essex County invitation at Manhattan Beach.

Miss Nuthall, the youngest tennis player in an American national since Miss Wills played the rôle in 1922, put up a glorious battle and was roundly applauded by the 5,000 spectators. But despite the best efforts of the English girl the inimitable Helen crushed her in thirty-one minutes.

Wills' victory gave a superb exhibition of strokes. Miss Wills' piston and forearm worked in perfect rhythm and with dynamic power; she started the tactically correct game of her opponent to bits.

Betty Matches Helen's Drives.

In the second set Miss Nuthall drove out her hand to serve, right and alternated the depth of her shots to save skill. This combination earned Miss Nuthall two breaks and worried Miss Wills momentarily, but it required more than strategy to check her irresistible forehand offensive.

It seemed that Miss Nuthall continued a tantalizing blunder in attempting to serve with the California whiz-bang. She evidently realized this in the second chapter, but it was too late.

The match did not produce good tennis. Only nine points were earned, five by Miss Nuthall and four by Miss Wills. The numerous errors, however, were due to the efforts of both players and unguarded territory.

Miss Nuthall dropped seven points in a row in the second set in trying to serve the lines and missing by a hair's breadth.

LOCKHART SETS RACE MARK AT ALTOONA TRACK

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Frank Lockhart established a new track record for rear wheel driven automobiles at the Altoona speedway today when he turned in a lap at 135.5 miles an hour to qualify for the 200-mile championship event here Labor day.

WOLGAST SENT TOPSYCHOPATHIC WARD ON COAST

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 30.—(Special)—Ad Wolgast was committed to the psychiatric hospital here today on a warrant for insanity observation. The world's lightweight champion of the world, aged 20, has been living of the income of Jack Doyle, local boxing promoter here, for some years. Wolgast will have a hearing tomorrow before Judge Lambert and a lunacy committee. The request of friends, who said they feared that Wolgast was insane, was responsible for his commitment.

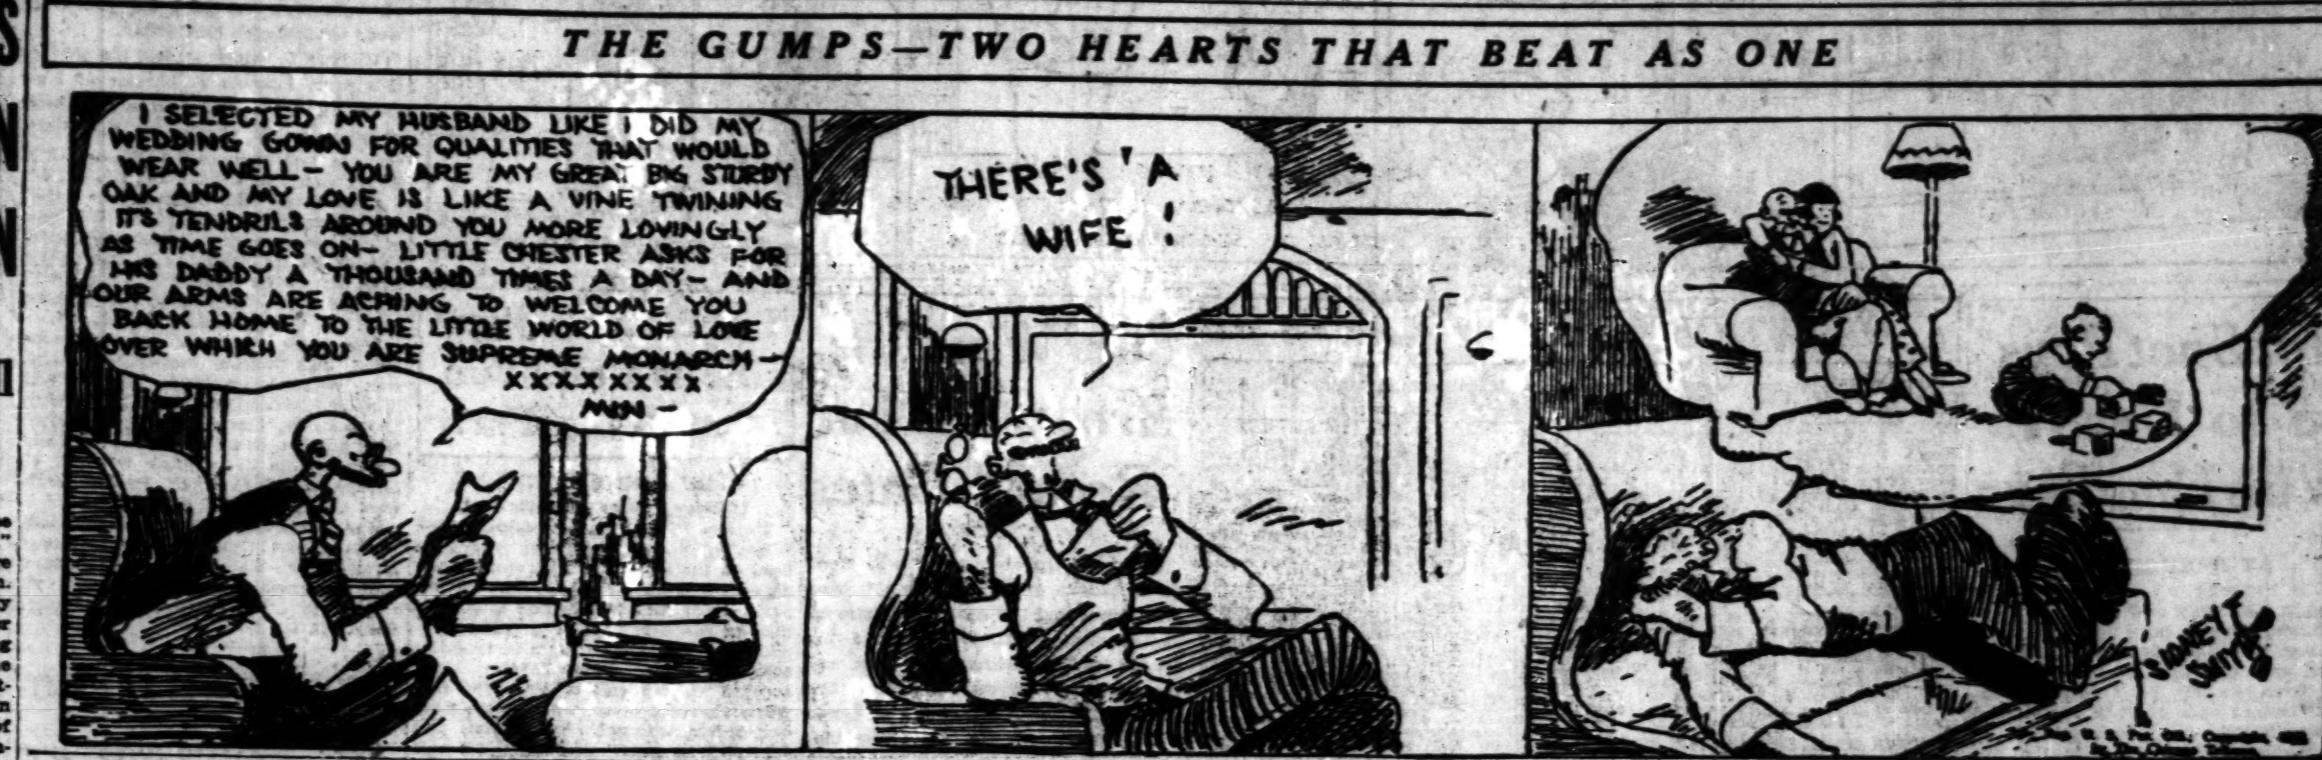

At one time Wolgast was confined and underwent treatment for nearly two years in a sanitarium at Kenilworth, Ill.

Women Discard Bathing Suits for Grease.

CHARLOTTE SCHOMMELL

Helen Wills regained her title of America's tennis queen by winning a straight set victory over Betty Nuthall of England yesterday in the national women's singles. Illness caused her to relinquish her crown last year.

More than 300,000 persons are expected to witness the marathon.

The icy temperature of Lake Ontario may impede swimmers from California and the south. Cold weather has chilled the lake during the last week. For two days it has been raining. There was a slight roll on the lake today. Despite the temperature of the water and the roll, the race will not be postponed, barring a heavy storm.

The first prize of $30,000 and the glory to go with it have caused many women entrants to discard prudish bathing suits in their desire to be first to splash over the finish.

Among the women swimmers who will be attired in grease are Dr. Charlotte Gantz, 23 year old Mystic Shrimper of Connecticut, and Dr. Lorraine Schomell of New Haven.

Jack does not remember how he received the bruise. Manager Flynn stated Dempsey might box today, depending how he feels this morning and the improvement shown in the shoulder.

Flynn Goes Cautiously.

"This shoulder bruise may work itself out and again it may be more serious than we think," Flynn added.

Miss Mona McLean, Great Britain, remained longest in the water—14 hours and 10 minutes. She started at 1:10 Monday night and four hours later had made 10 miles. She gave up at 12:20 this afternoon.

Miss Edith Jensen, Denmark, and Miss Hilda Harding, Great Britain, hoped off together at 9:22 Monday night. Miss Harding gave up at 2 a. m. Tuesday and Miss Jensen followed her back to France at 5:10.

Miss Ivy Hawkes, South Africa, started at 5:25, and was followed by Rene Dorin, Switzerland, at 5:30, and Dr. Schiff, 55 year old German doctor, at 5:55. All three returned, unsuccessful, to Bologna this afternoon.

Lockhart's mark was eight-tenths of a mile below the record for all cars 140.2 miles an hour established by Eddie Dusay in trials for the June 10 race of this year.

Lockhart, 1925 speedway champion and two-time winner at Altoona, made two unsuccessful efforts to qualify his car at the prescribed speed of 135 miles an hour.

Speculator, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Chuck Wiggins, the sparring partner, materialized in Speculator overnight, about thirty-six hours overdue, and this afternoon gave Gene Tunney the first two rounds of genuine fist fighting that the Army-Navy game here last June. Tunney fought Mr. Tunney twice when they were on a more or less equal footing professionally. Mr. Wiggins had no such whispering reverence for the master as the other sparring partners have evinced and he signaled his debut by tearing into Mr. Tunney with great alacrity.

It is true that after the first round he abandoned much of his abdomen, as Mr. Tunney was bumping him around the middle while Mr. Wiggins deposited large quantities of ale if when whenever available. But, even so, he made Mr. Tunney miss a number of right crosses to the head and also made the master look much less masterful.

Mr. Tunney was twice beaten to the ropes and, seeing no way out, simply turned his back and went to the ropes, leaving his chin uncovered and stopped a smart right chop therewith.

Tunney Jollied Mr. Vidbeck. Before these two rounds Tunney the windbag and the meanest of the mean, was a trifle lame and Jack decided another idle day would do it good. His failure to appear on the platform disappointed—4,000 fans, among them many women.

Jack Dempsey yesterday took another day of rest. A bruised left shoulder received in a boxing bout Sunday still was a trifle lame and Jack decided another idle day would do it good. His failure to appear on the platform disappointed—4,000 fans, among them many women.

Jack does not remember how he received the bruise. Manager Flynn stated Dempsey might box today, depending how he feels this morning and the improvement shown in the shoulder.

The weather is still so dreary and soggy that the last week of Tunney's training in Speculator will have to be rescheduled.

Flynn Goes Cautiously.

"This shoulder bruise may work itself out and again it may be more serious than we think," Flynn added.

Miss Mona McLean, Great Britain, remained longest in the water—14 hours and 10 minutes. She started at 1:10 Monday night and four hours later had made 10 miles. She gave up at 12:20 this afternoon.

Miss Edith Jensen, Denmark, and Miss Hilda Harding, Great Britain, hoped off together at 9:22 Monday night. Miss Harding gave up at 2 a. m. Tuesday and Miss Jensen followed her back to France at 5:10.

Miss Ivy Hawkes, South Africa, started at 5:25, and was followed by Rene Dorin, Switzerland, at 5:30, and Dr. Schiff, 55 year old German doctor, at 5:55. All three returned, unsuccessful, to Bologna this afternoon.

Lockhart sets race mark at Altoona track

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Frank Lockhart established a new track record for rear wheel driven automobiles at the Altoona speedway today when he turned in a lap at 135.5 miles an hour to qualify for the 200-mile championship event here Labor day.

Lockhart's mark was eight-tenths of a mile below the record for all cars 140.2 miles an hour established by Eddie Dusay in trials for the June 10 race of this year.

Lockhart, 1925 speedway champion and two-time winner at Altoona, made two unsuccessful efforts to qualify his car at the prescribed speed of 135 miles an hour.

Wolgast sent topsy-chopathic ward on coast

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 30.—(Special)—Ad Wolgast was committed to the psychiatric hospital here today on a warrant for insanity observation. The world's lightweight champion of the world, aged 20, has been living off the income of Jack Doyle, local boxing promoter here, for some years. Wolgast will have a hearing tomorrow before Judge Lambert and a lunacy committee. The request of friends, who said they feared that Wolgast was insane, was responsible for his commitment.

At one time Wolgast was confined and underwent treatment for nearly two years in a sanitarium at Kenilworth, Ill.

FIGHT TICKETS.

ONCE again the ring is up again for ring-side seats for the impending pugilistic convention, wherein Mr. Gene Tunney and Mr. Jack Dempsey will be candidates for the greatest honor which their respective fans can bestow, are going to be disappointed in their allotted seats according to a usually trustworthy source, approximately 20,000 seats have been promised in the first five rows by "friends" who have an "inside drag" with the promoters.

Now, it will not be necessary to sit in the first five rows to see what takes place at the convention. In fact, our judgment is that some discerning spectators will see much from $30 and $50 double decker seats, back row, right behind the stage.

Now, we do not pretend that any one sitting at the top of the stadium can judge the effect of blows as well or see as well as one sitting in the first five rows, but, equipped with field glasses, we think they will at least know a bout is taking place, and they are less likely to have their vision obscured by excited gentlemen jumping up and down.

If this viewpoint is worth anything to the promoters in aiding them in disposing of other than $40 seats, or to optimists selling or renting field glasses, they are welcome to it.

into Glance, who covered the base on the throw, but he scored eventually on a single by Lindstrom.

Jackson Dose His Bl.

By the end of the second nobody outside of Mr. McCarthy had any idea that Jones was a pitcher for this day, but the southpaw was permitted to linger and the slaughter proceeded. Hornsby led off in the third with a pass and Terry, after moseying up a couple of chips, hit a single. A single over short, Jackson, who always has himself in evidence when the Cubs are around, then hit one of the left field advertisements for a double. Hornsby and Terry scuttled home. Jones was excused from further effort after this hit, and Bush stepped in to hurry the inning to a conclusion. It is needless to repeat that the arrival of Bush was equivalent to the appearance of a fire wagon after the blaze was extinguished.

The last Giant tally was picked up at the eighth in the fourth. After Hauke had made a staggering one handed backward catch of a long drive by Mai Mann, a pass was awarded to Lindstrom, who hiked to third when Hornsby lined a single to right. Hornsby singled in the same direction, whereupon Lindstrom crossed the plate.

This was the last real offensive launched by the Giants. In fact, they made only two hits in the last five innings of Bush, Brillhart and young Henry Gramp, who appears in a box score only on stated occasions. The two hits were by Roush and Hornsby off Brillhart with two out in the sixth and complications were avoided when Gramp smacked Terry's bounder.

Cube Fall to His Fin.

McCarthy's men fiddled around rather aimlessly and ineffectually for the first three rounds but in the fifth finally nicked the spittin' Grimm for one. Jackson opened with a walk, and Stephenson singled him to third. Grimm also singled, scoring Wilson. With none out and two on base the situation looked promising, but the next three batters died feebly, among them Webb, who batted for Yester and sat down after the three swings allowed under the rules.

When Grimes was removed in the ninth it probably was done on the idea that he had enjoyed enough luck and that it might desert him. Adams cracked the open final edition with a single to right and English added a liner to center, replacing Adams and putting English on third. Amid great yells from the 20,000 attending bugs, Fitzsimmons took up the hurling burden and he cleaned things up in shipshape. He fanned three batters in a row, English scoring on a single. R. D. Evans, ran.

The Cubs went to Buffalo tonight for an exhibition there tomorrow.

TWO UNKNOWNS
UPSET VETERANS IN PRO GOLF

Arnold and Foulis Enter
Semi-Finals.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Some of these chaps who spend most of their time in the pro shops putting new shafts into the clubs you tried to wrap around a wire, took the championship of the Illinois professionals on its ear in the first and second rounds at Glen Acres yesterday. As a result, the four left in the tournament include only two pros known to golf fans—Al Espinosa and Eddie Murphy, and two young men who know only how to shoot first class golf.

George Arnold, twip of Tommy Armour physically and facially, is one of these and Jim Foulis, son of Dave Foulis pro at Hinckley, the other. Arnold defeated Bob McDonald and Eddie Loos, in the first and second rounds respectively and last night he was answering questions. His replies revealed that he's been playing golf since a few years after his birth in Somerset, England, and spent most of his life as pro and assistant in France, serving four years at Monte Carlo, the playground of Monaco.

Foulis Novice in Match Play.

Jim Foulis is known to Chicago as a modest young man, who only needs confidence to put him in the fight for a championship. Even his father admitted he is a good golfer, but it was startling to find this was his first experience in match play. Think of that and you conclude that he must have two holes to beat Everett Nelson in the first round, and followed by clipping the wings of Abe Espinosa, 2 and 1, in the second round.

These two youngsters stuck up against the veterans in the first of the 24 hole matches, Foulis matching shots with Al Espinosa and Arnold playing Eddie Murphy. Espinosa came through by two hole-and-a-half, beat Eddie Hart and 5, in the first round, and Bill Hartshorn in the second. Hartshorn need not apologize, however, as Al was four under par for the thirteen holes they played.

Foulis and Everett Nelson furnished the Roman candles and pinwheels of the first round with their twenty-two hole match. Nelson was out in 27, despite the two 6's, and was three up.

Braves Take 11 Inning Duel from Reds, 2-1

On Foulis. Then Foulis began to play a beautiful series of iron shot, which Nelson almost matched. Foulis crawled up, losing one hole to a birdie, but Nelson was dormie two on the 17th.

Foulis' Birdie Win Match.

Foulis dropped his tee shot dead on the short hole and holed the putt for a two hole. Nelson was only dormie.

Both were at three and Jim sank his putt, while Nelson missed his three footer for a half. They moved over to the first hole again and halved the three holes with par golf, and then Foulis had his second shot twelve feet from the pin on the 425 yard fourth and holed the putt for a birdie three and the match.

Eddie Loos finished 68 in the first round to finish two up on Gunnar Nelson who shot a par of 70.

Nelson won the first two holes, the second with an eagle, but they were square at the turn and Murphy came home in 32. He won the tenth, the 12th, and 13th with birdies, while Gunnar took the fourteenth and they halved the last four holes, each scoring two pars and two birdies on them.

Two of the second round battles went to the eighteenth green and in each case a decided winner. Loos and Arnold each had medal counts of 73. Arnold had squared the match by winning the fourteenth and they halved to the eighteenth. Loos put his second shot into a trap short of the green on the eighteenth, while Arnold was six feet from the pin, with a mean downhill putt. Arnold's three won the hole and the match.

Murphy and Al Hackforth of Park Ridge staged the other duel.

SHORT COVERING RALLIES WHEAT; CORN IS LOWER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

There was heavy early liquidation yesterday in wheat, with a small gain of the selling credited to a leading local professional who was active on that side on Monday. Prices, however, dropped 1 1/4¢ from Monday's close, the break bringing in aggressive short covering, also buying by cash interests and mills.

It is in wheat prices followed with the finish 10¢ lower to 14¢ higher, the latter on March. September was 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ at the last, or 1 1/2¢ lower December, while March was 1 1/4¢ to 1 1/2¢. Corn was 1 1/2¢ lower from Monday's finish on reduced short covering, finished 1 1/4¢ lower with September at 1 1/4¢ and December at 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢. Oats were unchanged to 10¢ lower, and rye unchanged to 10¢ lower.

Favorable weather in Europe and a lack of export demand were the main bearish influences, but the market acted tired early, and the decline easily was attained, the long wheat coming into the picture in large amounts. However, one of the leading recent sellers was credited with buying freely from 1 1/2¢ and down for the December, which helped to check the decline.

Rats in Canada.

There was little in the news that attracted attention, and the wheat market was dominated to a large extent by operations of leading dealers. Rains were reported in the Canadian prairie west, which may delay harvesting, and the forecast was for showers both sides of the International line. Winnipeg closed on a strong rally with the close unchanged to 14¢ higher, while Minneapolis was 1 1/2¢ to 14¢ lower, although reporting flour business the best of any day for this crop year. There was also improvement in the demand for flour at eastern markets.

Export demand was reported as very heavy, but the wheat cables came much stronger, presumably as wet weather on the continent, and business in all positions was finally estimated at 400,000 to 500,000 bu. Wheat crop in all countries of Europe, exclusive of France and Russia, is privately estimated at 900,000,000 bu against 750,000,000 bu last year. Liverpool closed 1 1/4¢ lower.

Smaller Longs Sell Corn.

Overnight margin calls and better weather conditions over the west with some improvement in the character of the crop comments led to selling of futures by scattered longs which found support poor, and the decline was easily attained, although there was a lack of the spectacular selling so much in evidence on No. 3 corn. It was bought to come here during the day from Fort Worth, Tex., a most unusual situation, but the main corn belt is not affording freely. Forecast indicated little change in temperatures, with showers over part of the belt.

Scattered liquidation was on in oats early, but it soon ran its course and commission house and local buying was sufficient to bring about a good rally. There was considerable exchanging between September and December at 1 1/2¢.

Longs sold September rye rather freely, and the discount under December widened 1 1/2¢ for the day, with some changing over into the deferred deliveries. Export demand was reported as slow.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Heavy profit taking was on in eggs, and with a bullish construction plan, the price advanced rapidly on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The crop was up 100,000 bu with a net gain of 100,000 bu on the November delivery. Total sales were 110 cars. Liquidation was well under way, and the market was down from the start with the close 10¢ lower. Market had a nervous undertone, and small buying was reported on the buying side. Total sales were 101 cars. Prices follow:

Buy Church Bonds
Church bonds are unusually attractive at this time to the discriminating investor. Perhaps never before have physical church values been so sound and the margin of security so broad. The experience of countless investors over a long period of years guarantees the high value and certainty of Church Bonds that pay an assured rate of interest for long or short term. OIL PRODUCTION SHOWS EFFECTS OF LATE EXCESS Yesterday's news of business was mixed. The weekly report of revenue freight car loadings of the American Railway association and the daily average crude oil production summary of the American Petroleum Institute were up as compared with a couple of poor half year reports of the Atlantic Refining Company and the American Woolen company.

Total revenue freight for the week ended Aug. 20 was 1,965,626 cars, an increase of 17,356 over the preceding week, but less by 14,867 cars than the same period of last year and 12,359 under the corresponding week of 1926. Miscellaneous freight loadings were up to show good gains in the total better by 406,532 cars, a gain of 4,871 cars above the similar week of 1926 and 14,160 cars more than the same week in 1925. Merchandise loadings and less than carload freight was 351,350 cars, a gain of 844 over the corresponding week of 1926 and 1,025 cars higher than the same week two years ago.

Oil Production Lower.

The agreement on curtailment of production in the petroleum industry was evidenced in the daily average crude oil production figures for the week ended Aug. 27. The total was 2,500,996 barrels, a decrease of 11,500 barrels.

The daily average production east of California was 1,873,000 barrels, a decline of 17,000 barrels.

Compared with net profit of $3,248,112, equal to $5.01 a share on the common stock after preferred dividends in the first half of 1926, the report of the Atlantic Refining company for the six months of this year shows a net loss of $1,477,415. This is after inventory adjustments, and intangible development costs.

Medium weight hogs again held firm while light ruled steady. Butchers outlined their light hogs for the first time of the season, a feature of the trade. General average price remained unchanged at $12.35, with extreme top 50 lower at $12.15, paid for fancy 204@225 lb averages.

Top and average hog prices yesterday were $14 apart, showing the narrowest spread since July 20, against $13.85 early last week and $2.00 two weeks ago.

Others entered the trade with larger orders again, taking 10,000 hogs in two days, the largest shipments since last March and over 20 per cent of fresh arrivals. Larger packers bought sparingly, leaving about 10,000 in the pens at the close, with only 14,000 estimated for today.

Range lambs at $13.75.

Lamb prices reacted sharply on smaller supplies yesterday, best range stock advancing to $12.75, with natives selling up to $13.50 under brisk competition between local and outside buyers. Heroes of 7:15 a.m.
Lake Forest Train
Get Their Laurels
BY NANCY R.

A little more than a year ago, this pillar of type was dedicated one bright morning to the gentlemen of Lake Forest who call the famous "Eight O'Clock." I spoke of their shining motor cars, their fresh-from-the-morning-bath gravity, and their good looks. I believe they liked it—several of them told me they did.

But today—and may it be a bright morning—I have a tribute to another group of men—the heroes of the "Seven Fifteen."

For they are truly gallant; theirs is a deadly earnestness. They not only awake late into the night—the nocturnal distractions in Lake Forest are legion—but they start sleep meters with the sun, and rise as it casts the first long streaks across the horizon.

But not half so bad, they tell me, are the midnight hours as that one preceding the departure for the "Seven Fifteen." A man must be torn from his sleep. He must be fed, and where, O where, in the dead of yester-night? Few of them arise in time to furnish the master with toast and coffee, if he be so unfortunate as to have to catch the early train. Even the most devoted wife rebels at the hours of early dawn, and hot breakfasts are few for the heroes of this particular train, unless, as I am told as often as the case, they get up and soon go to sleep again.

And I hear, too, that this little group of men is more than faithful to the calls of duty. Rarely is their number changed. Rarely is a face missing. They are always there, and somehow or other, they love it and have no envy for their brothers who catch the "Eight O'Clock."

In this list of heroes are such well known names as Charles T. Atkinson, Pauline Winstanley, Aime Miller, William C. Casserly, "Billy" Fullman, Richard D. Stevenson, Lawrence Williams, William E. Swift, Ed Farno, Hempstead Washburn, Hugh Wilson, Otto Hubbard, Robert J. Dunham Jr., William Covington, Carl Slobot, and Frank Prieve.
